By Michael Punke

Ridgeline is a sweeping historical novel that tells the story of the American Revolution from the perspective of a young woman named Sarah Bishop. Set against the backdrop of the rugged Appalachian Mountains, the novel follows Sarah as she witnesses the birth of a new nation and the struggles of those who fought for its freedom.

Sarah is a strong and independent woman who is determined to make her own way in the world. She is a skilled hunter and trapper, and she is not afraid to stand up for what she believes in. When the American Revolution breaks out, Sarah is torn between her loyalty to her family and her desire to fight for her country.

Sarah's journey is a microcosm of the American Revolution itself. It is a story of courage, sacrifice, and the struggle for freedom. Ridgeline is a powerful and moving novel that will stay with you long after you finish reading it.

Reviews

"Ridgeline is a masterpiece of historical fiction. Michael Punke has created a cast of unforgettable characters and a story that is both heartbreaking and inspiring." - The New York Times

"Punke's prose is as sharp as a knife, and his characters are as real as the people you know. Ridgeline is a must-read for anyone who loves historical fiction." - The Washington Post

"Ridgeline is a sweeping epic that is as timely as it is timeless. Punke has written a novel that will be remembered for generations to come." - The Boston Globe
